Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry

A community is a social unit of any size that shares common values.

- Wikipedia

"I am convinced that God knew my son needed you folks! From the moment I walked in the office the first time, I felt a presence of peace there...I sensed then that Anchorpoint was what my son needed. I was right. And I still get that very definite sense of peace each time I walk into your office. The Holy Spirit is most definitely present there!"

Your sliding financial scale made it possible for me to seek help. Without your willingness to have me pay what I could, I would not have been able to come.

"I like how I was treated with kindness and understanding. I was able to express my feelings and that the information was confidential."

"I was going through a very difficult and confusing time, and would not have been able to afford to go to a counselor for help if it wasn't for Anchorpoint. There are many people who are in this same position. This service is invaluable."

"Your sliding scale is the only way we could have gotten our son a tutor."

"They cared and believed in my child when others didn't"

Thank you for finding value in serving your neighbors through the work of Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry. Your friendship with us brought hope and healing to our community this year.

Executive Director's Message

Rev. Dr. Ron Barnes, LSW

Being with one another.

In 2014 Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry continued to counsel with youth, couples, and families; tutor with and support students academically and through being a caring presence; teach parents and be with them in their pain and joy. No matter what people are facing it is their attitude that is an essential component to facing and accepting their circumstances. Pastor Chuck Swindoll writes:

"The longer I live, the more I realize the impact of attitude on life. Attitude, to me, is more important than facts. It is more important than the past, than education, than money, than circumstances, than failures, than success, than what other people think or say or do. It is more important than appearance, giftedness or skill. It will make or break a company...a church...a home. The remarkable thing is we have a choice every day regarding the attitude we will embrace for that day. We cannot change our past...we cannot change the fact that people will act in a certain way. We cannot change the inevitable. The only thing we can do is play on the one string we have, and that is our attitude...I am convinced that life is 10% what happens to me and 90% how I react to it. And so it is with you...we are in charge of our attitudes."

At Anchorpoint we believe that the Christian faith offers the needed healing (salvation) that all people search for in their lives. Healing comes through a relationship with Jesus Christ and in turn He deepens our understanding of the priorities we need to live a meaningful and joyful life. In 2 Corinthians 7:10, we read, "Distress that drives us to God does that. It turns us around. It gets us back in the way of salvation. We never regret that kind of pain. But those who let distress drive them away from God are full of regrets, end up on a deathbed of regrets. (MSG)" And, in James 1:2-4, we read, "Consider it a sheer gift, friends, when tests and challenges come at you from all sides. You know that under pressure, your faith-life is forced into the open and shows its true colors. So don't try to get out of anything prematurely. Let it do its work so you become mature and well-developed, not deficient in any way. (MSG)"

Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry is a para-church ministry, and is indeed, connected to the larger Christian church. We continue to interact with as many churches as we can to work together in reaching out to our greater community with the healing power and love of Christ. Anchorpoint, like the larger Christian church, reaches out to the broader community to serve and to be a therapeutic, healing and hopeful witness in a world that needs a spiritual foundation.

We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. —Hebrews 6:19

Board President's Message Cindy Gilch

I am grateful to have had the opportunity to serve as President of the Board of Directors for Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry (ACM) in 2014. The Ministry remained strong and caring by Building Hope and Promoting Healing and Learning through faith based counseling, tutoring and supportive services.

Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry continued to work as a team addressing challenges, strengthening programs, and expanding services to better meet the growing needs in the region. What has continued to make ACM's ministry different, is the staff, interns, volunteers and Board Members placed the needs of clients and the community ahead of its own.

Stressing the importance of adapting to ever increasing referrals from churches, schools, physicians, nonprofits and individuals, ACM added new services and support groups. The Business Leader Wellness Series welcomed community leaders to ACM for "Lunch and Learn" sessions. SPIN, a single parent support group was created and provides a time for Mom to attend a support group and kids to receive free tutoring or homework help. ACM's Interns introduced a new Depression Support Group for Women and combined with the Boundaries Support Group to create the new Women's Self Care Support Group.

The Board of Directors is grateful for your financial and volunteer support in 2014. Through grants, fundraisers, businesses and individual contributions we remain ready and committed to providing HOPE and HEALING to all who enter our doors.

Thank you again for sharing your gifts of time and resources. They truly have made a difference in 2014 and together, we can and will work to mend hearts, heal relationships, educate youth and build healthier and safer families.

Blessings,

Counseling Services

"This is the first therapist that is working on a positive change as opposed to just listening to negatives. I have made positive change in my life per her help." — ACM Counseling Client

In 2014 Anchorpoint served approximately 440 families. We served over 1700 people in various family constellations and provided 2,900 counseling sessions.

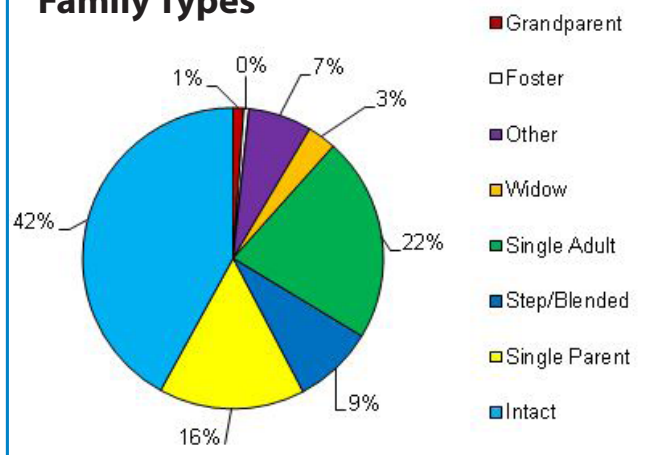

We continue to be blessed and are able, through the skills and abilities of our therapists, to serve a wide range of problems and concerns. We continue to serve many teens struggling with the growing pressure of adolescence. We counsel with younger families working through the issues of being new parents. We counsel with married couples in their 20's and up to those in their 60's and even a few in their 70's. We do a considerable amount of family therapy as well to strengthen family life and relationships.

In Proverbs 24:3 we read, "It takes wisdom to build a house, and understanding to set it on a firm foundation." We all go through trying times and a grounded belief system helps us through the wisdom of the scriptural teachings of Christ. He offers us protective commands and shares with us his unfailing love amidst our struggles with our self and others.

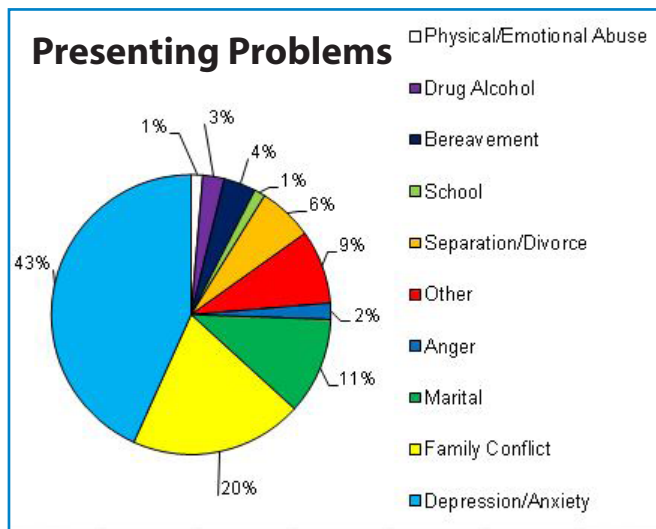

Lately, our world has presented itself through the news media as a more threatening and insecure place. This affects all of us in varying degrees (some more than others). If we are not grounded in a healthy belief system our fears and anxieties may become extreme.

Anchorpoint provides clinical counseling and it also encourages the growth and development of our faith, our spiritual dimension, and our connection with God. At Anchorpoint, we believe that anchoring one's life spiritually is a significant element in one's healing process and adds to an overall healthier and realistic perspective on life.

Interns Mentored while Leading Support Groups

During 2014, interns and their supervisors together experienced the excitement of planning and implementing therapeutic groups. As group therapy is again thriving in the therapeutic community, these groups filled up quickly. Newspapers picked up on the excitement, interviewing staff and interns and producing three articles encouraging participation. This feedback from the community is good evidence that group work is needed. The groups themselves experienced extraordinary cohesion, and each of the groups completed in 2014 continues to meet informally because of the meaningful bonds formed. The two groups run in the fall of 2014 were Boundaries for Women and the Stress, Anxiety and Depression Support Group. Boundaries for Women was advertised as a psychoeducational group, with exercises and opportunities to practice new ways of relating. The Stress, Anxiety and Depression group was a support group designed to teach members to encourage one another and help each other reach goals. Group members experienced their groups as helpful and most shared an interest in being informed about upcoming groups. As indicated on feedback forms completed at termination, the groups provided support, friendship, coping mechanisms, humor, and taught members that they are not alone. Also indicated on the feedback forms, members of the psychoeducation group would have appreciated more support, and members of the support group would have appreciated more psychoeducation. This valuable piece of feedback has led to the formulation of a hybrid group, which aims to meet both of these needs. This group and a new teens support group, Sanctuary, are ready to begin in Spring 2015.

"My therapist is awesome! Very kind, caring and smart. It's very helpful for those without insurance and who have low income. I love that I can come get help and pay what I can."

"Our counselor is amazing. She has helped me and my daughter so much. Her voice has been a great comfort to me during this difficult time."

"God knew that I needed you and your guidance at an important crossroads in my life. I will never be able to express how much I appreciate all that you've done for me and taught me to do for myself."

"My counselor was placed in my path in a very direct way by God. Her knowledge, wisdom and deep concern for my well-being were a part of every session. I am a much better person now than when I started counseling."

"Having a therapist on a weekly basis has been most helpful. My counselor has provided me with resources to continue working toward goals even outside of our sessions. She has been extremely insightful. She has helped me to examine things in new ways to realize what is, in retrospect, obvious. She helps me work toward discovering the roots of my issues, not just ways to cope with them after its basically too late. She is always positive and fills me with hope!"

Youth Development Program Tutoring & Mentoring

The year 2014 brought 113 unique, promising youth through the doors of Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry's Tutoring Program. Almost an equal number of girls and boys (57 boys, 56 girls) were tutored once or twice a week to improve their grades in reading, spelling, math, English, history, science, and Spanish. Over 1,977 hours of tutoring were conducted during the school year and summer programs by a wonderful group of 45 volunteer tutors, along with 7 certified teachers hired to work with the more challenging students and the higher level subjects.

As usual, the majority of our students ranged from kindergarten through 12th grade and attended public or private schools. In addition to these more traditional students, we also tutored 4 students in cyberschool, 1 homeschooled student, and 5 post-high school students who wanted help with their courses at various community colleges and technical schools in the area. It was rewarding that these young adults, who had attended Anchorpoint tutoring as younger students, now wanted to return for help as they pursued higher education! One young man summarized his positive experiences at Anchorpoint when he said, "This place is great. It's like getting together with a good friend who can also help you with your College Algebra class!"

Along with being a support to students and parents, the Tutoring/Mentoring Program also strives to work closely with the Anchorpoint clinical staff whenever students receive both counseling and tutoring at our facility. Our counselors report that, when working with a school age client, it is beneficial to allow our tutoring program to handle the youth's academic problems so the counseling sessions can target the mental health issues with which the client or family is struggling. As a counselor stated in a recent program evaluation, "[The tutoring program] boosts the child's/teen's self-esteem and reduces parental stress with the child. This makes therapy more "productive" for the child and parents. This is an excellent program! The Best!"

"The tutoring program, which provides a warm, safe atmosphere for learning, gave my client a comfort level from which we could build on. This client learned to trust ACM and its staff, which aided our relationship as counselor-client."

—Anchorpoint Counselor

"Anchorpoint is truly an exceptional program, and I am very grateful that both of my daughters were given the opportunity to participate in it. I feel that the success of this program can largely be attributed to both the program manager and the tutors, who are committed, caring, dedicated, knowledgeable, and extremely patient."—Parent

"I love my tutor 'cause she makes me smart!" —2nd grade student

"I can think better here (at Anchorpoint) than I do at home." —9th grade student

"This program is so valuable for these children and their families. It is a great service and a welcome resource. My student had an enthusiasm for learning and enjoyed the sessions. I think the tutoring provided her with some individual attention and confidence."—Anchorpoint Volunteer Tutor

Parent & Community Education

2014 Spinning In a New Direction

Anchorpoint leads the charge to improve the lives of Single Mothers and their children.

Did you know that....

- Most single parents are single mothers?
- Single parent-households coupled with lower household incomes can increase the risk of their children performing poorly in school?
- Half or more of today's children will likely spend at least part of their childhood in a single parent family?

The Single Parent Information Network, fondly known as SPIN, is an exciting, new program for single parent families and is offered in partnership with the WOMEN of South-western PA., who also fund our Single Parent Coaching scholarship program.

The Fall pilot SPIN group, emerged when our Parent Coaching surveys demonstrated that over 75% of respondents were single mothers courageously seeking help for themselves and their children. Our data indicated that children in these families often experienced a cycle of underachievement and/or need for counseling services.

Mothers and children in our bi-monthly SPIN program are treated to a free meal together. The children receive homework or tutoring support while the moms talk about issues facing families like theirs and benefit from the encouragement and support of fellow moms.

"The SPIN group has been such a positive experience for me- just knowing I'm not alone and having a group of women to share my feelings with and encourage me has helped me so much! I feel so blessed to have met such strong and supportive women in this group and I am so grateful to be able to be part of it!"

"There are so many reasons why I appreciate the single moms group, it's very difficult to choose. I think that the support of all individuals involved is uplifting, mainly because it allows you to support others and help them through a difficult period in their life as well as your own. Thank you for allowing this to happen."

"My experience with SPIN (single moms group) has been very inspirational. I've learned coping skills and my twelve year old son has made new friends and benefitted from the tutoring as well. The coordinator, Joan, has a very special talent that everyone in the group experienced. We all seemed to support each other."

"I appreciated the support from single mothers who understand. It is knowing that you are not alone. The support and acceptance is overwhelming. It is nice to know there is a place to be yourself and all your flaws, and be accepted. There is no judgment; just love and support."

"I really enjoy and look forward to SPIN because of the friendships I've made and the talks, advice and encouragement we give each other. Joan is awesome too!"

Parent & Community Education

We are blessed to provide multiple services under one roof for families who reach out: tutoring, parent coaching, counseling services, and other numerous support groups. In addition to SPIN, we offer other successful programs for parents that continue to support, empower and encourage:

Parenting with Love & Logic Courses

"I liked how other parents validated what I was also feeling."

"This program has helped me have the tools to tackle my parenting responsibilities."

"My relationship with my children has been less confrontational and more consequential based...but it is still work for me!"

Private Parent Coaching

"I like how I was treated with kindness and understanding."

"I liked how I was able to express my feelings and that the information was confidential."

"Our situation has calmed down greatly and I do utilize the skills/actions that you shared. I am getting stronger and more centered as time goes by."

"The parent coaching really helped get me on the right path."

Hot Topic Parenting Workshops

Additional workshops were offered at churches, school & community sites. With twenty two topics to choose from, subjects ranged from Love Me Enough to Set Limits and Avoiding Overindulgence for parents of preschoolers and Bully-Proofing Your Kids, Raising Responsible Kids, and Social Media 101 for elementary and middle school children to Boundaries with Teens and other important issues for parents with children of all ages.

"Great work shop. Thank you!"

"Confirmed my suspicions that my family is addicted to social media."

"Helpful and realistic information. The handouts and information I was able to take with me to reference were helpful."

"I found it helpful that the presenter was open to answering questions."

"The examples she gave were most helpful."

And all the believers lived in a wonderful harmony, holding everything in common. They sold whatever they owned and pooled their resources so that each person's need was met. Acts 2:45 (The Message)

Financial Report

Gifts listed in this report were received in our office from January 1 through December 31, 2014. If your name has been accidentally omitted or misspelled, please accept our sincere apologies and notify us at 412.366.1300.

There is great power in hope. Hope opens doors where despair has closed them. Hope sees problems as opportunities. Hope is essential for life...so essential, in fact, that Scripture describes hope as "a strong and trustworthy anchor for our souls" (Hebrews 6:19).

One of the earliest symbols of the Christian faith, the anchor has at its center a cross. For Christians, the cross-shaped anchor reminds us of the hope we have in Christ. In the same way an anchor steadies and secures a ship during stormy weather, hope-anchored by faith in Jesus Christ-holds the wind-tossed, storm-torn, and weary believer during his or her most perilous times.

God has called on countless loving and generous individuals like you to support this ministry financially. Anchorpoint Counseling Ministry is very grateful for your partnership. Thanks to your generosity, the people who desperately need help but could otherwise not afford it - now have hope. Whether you donate publicly or anonymously through cash donations, the United Way Contributor Choice (code # 354), auction/raffle prizes, books, golf sponsorships, grants, office equipment or furniture, participation in fundraising events, or your time as a tutor, board member, or office volunteer, we sincerely THANK YOU.

COMMUNITY SECURITY WATCH

All the blessings we enjoy are Divine deposits, committed to our trust on this condition, that they should be dispensed for the benefit of our neighbors.
- John Calvin

Thank YOU for your faithful friendship to Anchorpoint

Your prayers, sacrifices of time, treasures and talents have enabled us to serve others in need of love and healing in our communities. We and our clients have been greatly blessed by your kindness. We pray your partnership with us is a blessing to you as well.
